

HUTCHINSON UTILITIES COMMISSION

A public power utility is a tremendous community asset.

Hutchinson Utilities Commission (HUC) is your locally owned gas and electric Public Power Utility. Hutchinson is one of 126 Minnesota cities that benefit from having a local municipal utility. A public power utility is a tremendous community asset. Here are some of the reasons why:

We have great service.

We're part of the community and our policy makers, managers and workers are part of the community. Our crews are always on hand in the event of an emergency. You don't need to call an 800 number to talk to us.

We're locally regulated.

Rates and service practices are set by members of the community who live in the community. If you have a problem, you know who to talk to.

We're owned by our customers.

There is no tension between the interests of customers and the interests of stockholders. Our focus is Main Street, not Wall Street. We work for you.

We're not in it for the money.

Municipal utilities are operated in the public interest. Our goal is long-term community benefit, not short-term gain. We work hard to save you money.

We're the yardstick for the industry.

For generations public power systems have set standards for rates and service that other utilities have had to meet.

We'll be there.

Hutchinson Utilities Commission has served our community for more than 70 years. In an era when new competitors come and go faster than we can learn their names, you can count on us. We will be there when you need us.
